

SAFARI ZOO CAMP- JOB INFORMATION AND REQUIREMENTS

Since 1983, Jungle Cat World Wildlife Park has been offering visitors the unique opportunity to see and experience wild species, many threatened with extinction, in an up-close and personal environment. Our mission is to protect and conserve the natural world by offering the public engaging wildlife education programs and experiences with animals to help foster the necessary awareness, knowledge, skills and confidence to live in an environmentally responsible way.

At Safari Zoo Camp, campers work with professional zookeeping staff and counsellors to care for the animals, duties that include feeding, watering, cleaning and behavioural enrichment projects. Other fun activities: treetop trekking, mountain biking, hiking, rock climbing wall, canoeing, caving, swimming, outdoor survival, Earth stewardship projects, talent show, arts & crafts!

Safari Zoo Camp is fully accredited by the Ontario Camping Association (OCA), Canada's Accredited Zoos and Aquariums (CAZA) and recognized by the World Association of Zoos and Aquariums (WAZA).

Before pursuing a job at Safari Zoo Camp, please review this document closely. Be sure that this is a job that you are both capable and eager to do. For more information, please visit:

WHY WORK AT SAFARI ZOO CAMP?

This is truly a unique program. It has changed the lives of both campers and staff from around the world. It has become a home away from home for many. It's a place for both excitement and serenity, where you can find friendship, understanding and compassion.

You will see the world around you with more clarity and scope. It is a place where you can nurture your love and enthusiasm for nature and develop the confidence to venture out and share it with others.

During your stay, you will laugh and cry, be elated and frustrated, get a better understanding about who you are.... yet question, who you are.

Then there is the opportunity to make a positive and lasting impact on the campers. And because of your guidance and influence, they may grow up to become a great leader, a caring parent or a concerned citizen. Because of you, the world has become a better place. That is the essence of Safari Zoo Camp.

JOB INFORMATION AND REQUIREMENTS

- Work Schedule: Programs run between 9:00am and 9:00pm, Monday to Friday, with ½ days on Sunday and Saturday. However, staff are expected to be up and available for the campers when they wake up in the morning and when they get ready for bed in the evening. By the end of the summer, you will be exhausted. Ask yourself; can you do this for 8 weeks straight?
- Standard Time Off: Staff get 27 hours off each weekend, from Saturday 12:00pm to Sunday 3:00 pm. Additional free time is available during some weeknights, between 9pm - 7:30am, based on a rotation system with other staff. You can expect 2-3 nights off. However, this free time is a privilege and not a right.

- Special Leave: Staff may request time-off for emergencies, illnesses and/or for a particular occasion (wedding, funeral, etc), however, special leave is not an entitlement. Requests, as such, will be considered based on the employees work performance and sympathetically in the light of individual circumstances. It is granted at the discretion of the Safari Zoo Camp Director(s).
- Work Involved: Zookeeping work is dirty work. There is lots of fecal material that needs to be cleaned and food to be prepared. You may be asked to cut-up a dead deer (a road-kill) so you can feed it to the lions. Most of the animals eat dead, whole chicken. The head, legs and wings have to be removed. Some of the monkeys and reptiles eat live grubs and insects. This is not a job for the squeamish.
- Responsibility: Each week, staff work together to manage a group of approximately 40 children. Each cabin will have about 12 campers, which you and another staff member are specifically responsible for. Responsibilities include making sure campers are getting their medication, eating during meals and brushing their teeth, etc. Over the summer, you may be confronted with an array of behavioural disorders and challenges, such as Autism, Tourette's, bed-wetting, fighting, low self-esteem, wandering, homesickness, etc.
- Physical Fitness: There are many athletic activities, including caving, treetop trekking, mountain biking, swimming and hiking.
- Experience with Kids and Animals: Some of the best skills and knowledge are acquired through direct experiences in life. We require staff that have volunteered or worked with both kids and animals in the past. Animal related experiences could include: Riding horses, having a pet dog (or snake!), volunteering at a vet clinic, etc. Experiences with youth can include: Being a Big Brother or Big Sister, teaching music lessons, working as a camp counsellor, etc.
- Keen Awareness: Zookeeping is one of the world's most dangerous professions, in particular, when working with large carnivores. Though special training and protocols are in place to manage these risks, a moment of absent-mindedness, a split-second of distraction, could result in serious injury or death! This job requires immense amounts of attentiveness and awareness of your surroundings; the ability to see things coming before they happen. There is no room for complacency.
- Knowledge: Each summer we are pleasantly challenged by campers that have a plethora of information about the world around us. Some of them are specialized, knowing everything about the one thing they are passionate about, like tigers or tarantula's. At camp, you are a teacher, as well as a role model. You should be able to name at least a dozen native plants and animals, such as trees and birds. You should know a few facts about the species in the zoo (<http://www.junglecatworld.com/animals.html>). What causes Global Warming? What shouldn't we drink bottled water? Why do we need worms? You will need to be prepared to answer questions like these.
- Power of Example: Our staff are environmentally conscientious and responsible. We require people that don't just teach GREEN, but live GREEN. This includes showing interest, concern and compassion for all living things.

- Selflessness: This job is about helping kids grow and learn. It's about making the lives of the animals in the zoo more comfortable and enjoyable. It's about helping another staff member with their workload, though you're busy with your own. When someone is cold, you give him/her your jacket. If someone is thirsty, you give him/her the last of your water. Zoo Camp is about being of service to others- good will and good choices.
- Confidence: Zoo Camp takes pride in encouraging individual to face their fears, whether it's heights, spiders or crawling through tight spaces. We do not accept "I can't" or "I won't" by those that have yet to try. We are not looking for fearlessness, but rather, an open mind to tackle, or at least, master that fear. Ignorance is often the root of fear, which can lead to prejudice, a dislike towards other people, animals or our environment. Each novel experience brings new awareness, knowledge and skills.
- Positive/Optimistic: When it's raining, you're outside with the kids watching the songbird's bath in the puddles. When it's stifling hot, you retreat to shade beneath a tree to discuss the wonders of this woody plant. When a child gets a small cut, you stop for a moment to examine the wound, commenting on how fascinating the human body is and how it will heal itself. Every instance, regardless how bad or uncomfortable it might seem, is an opportunity for a positive, educational experience. We do not tolerate melodramatic behaviour, gossiping, negativity, foul language, etc.
- Enthusiasm/Interpersonal Skills: HOW something is being taught is as important as WHAT is being taught. We're looking for personable and outgoing people that can communicate effectively. This is a job for people that like spending time with others.
- Worldly Experiences: Some of our campers visit Safari Zoo Camp from other countries. Having experience and knowledge about other cultures, even knowing a foreign language, is an asset.
- Accommodations: The bunkhouses, bathrooms and dining hall are modest. Functional, but nothing fancy.
- Wages: Under the Ontario Standards Employment Act, people employed to instruct or supervise children at camp are exempt from the minimum wage standard and overtime pay. Camp wages are thus relatively low, but the knowledge and experience gained is priceless! People come to work at Safari Zoo Camp for the love and enjoyment of the work- the kids, the animals and the environment. This is not the job for money-focused individuals.

Considering the special skills and dynamic personality required to work at such a unique camp, wages at Safari Zoo Camp are equal to or higher than other summer camps in North America. Everything you need during the summer (food & drinks, lodging, laundry facility, etc) is free and available. Room and board is included.

Wages are paid in weekly installments. Bonuses are available for those that have successfully completed the summer season. The amount received is based on the results of our weekly job performance assessment. Recognizing the value of experience, veteran staff receive a graduated earning of $100.00 for each summer season they've worked at Safari Zoo Camp.

STAFF EVALUATION:

Job performance is evaluated at the end of each week (camp session). The Director(s) examines such things as: Initiative, Enthusiasm, Interaction with Campers, Team Player and Competence. Each characteristic is given a numerical value: 1- Fantastic, 2- Average, 3- Needs Improvement. The results are then added up. If the final number indicates poor and/or negligent job performance, the Director(s) has the right to terminate employment.

The results are discussed with each staff member in private, to promote growth and improvement and as an opportunity for the Director(s) to reward exemplary work. Staff will also have the opportunity to evaluate management on a weekly basis and discuss any issues or concerns.
